

Controls Tightened; More Cash Needed To Buy New Homes

By CHARLES MOLONY
WASHINGTON—(P)—Home buyers had their last chance today to try for easy-term mortgages before drastic new government controls force bigger cash down payments and faster payoff terms. From tomorrow on:

1. Minimum cash downpayments for non-veterans will range from 10 per cent on houses costing under $5,000 to 50 per cent on houses priced above $24,250. Down payments for veterans will run from 5 to 45 per cent.

2. Mortgages will have to be paid off within 20 years, except for the few present day houses valued at $7,000 or less, where 25 years will be allowed. That will mean higher monthly payments.

3. The new terms, announced last night, apply to everyone—buyers, lenders, builders—so far as new houses are concerned.

There were two other developments in the government's effort to hold down inflation and keep the real-estate program rolling:

1. President Truman named Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediator director, to chairmanship of the new wage stabilization board. That left only a price administrator still to be named among top mobilization officials.

2. The government placed rigid export curbs on cotton in a move to halt advancing prices and assure the nation of its needs.

The new curbs on home credit brought hope of one consolation to prospective home buyers—prices of homes may drop somewhat.

Raymond E. Foley, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA), predicted the controls will bring prices down by (a) cutting down the number of buyers and (b) easing competition among builders for labor and materials, thus lowering costs.

Private Loan Best
But on mortgage terms, buyers could do better today—if they could conclude a deal with a bank or other private lender, or get in mortgage-aid applications to an office of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) or Veterans Administration (VA).

The VA's expiring terms require only a 5 per cent down payment from veterans, regardless of the house's price. Those of the FHA require only a 10 to 25 per cent down payment. Either would allow up to 30 years to pay off. Private lenders' terms never before subjected to government regulation—not even in World War II—heretofore could be as easy as they feel like giving, although they've usually been stiffer than the government. And private lenders aren't bound to any down payment or payoff limits—today.

The control terms going into effect tomorrow won't affect purchases or sales of existing houses—that is, "old" houses—if the mortgage arrangements are made through private lenders without government guarantee.

Deadline Today
As far as private mortgages are concerned, the rules apply only to houses on which construction started since noon on Aug. 3 and not covered by loan commitments made before that time.

As for FHA or VA mortgages, the rules apply to any house, no matter when it was built or how old it is, if the mortgage application isn't received by an FHA or VA office by today.

The controls will apply only to one- and two-family size houses—not apartment projects, or store or factory construction, for which other control regulations are being drafted in the government's effort to combat inflation.

As for the delay in controlling apartment construction, Foley told newsmen that the problem is more complicated, and care must be taken to avoid action that might cause higher rents.

Controls over rental construction are expected to be invoked

Legion To Take Rap At Acheson Over Million Watch Los Angeles Parade

By GRAHAM BERRY
LOS ANGELES—(P)—A demand that President Truman replace Secretary of State Acheson will be brought before the National American Legion convention today.

This is one of the top issues of the 32nd annual convocation, which resumed business sessions after staging a mammoth six-hour parade yesterday.

The outgoing national executive committee has recommended Acheson's dismissal. And National Commander George N. Craig has said the state department chief should go because the American people have lost confidence in him.

A crowd unofficially estimated at over 1,000,000 saw the annual Legion parade. The colorful cavalcade, 50,000 strong, started early in the afternoon and finished long after dark. Scores of smartly uniformed bands, drum and bugle corps, color guards and marching units thundered along Broadway for nearly seven hours.

Tonight the Legionnaires will put on another big spectacle in Memorial coliseum. Dozens of motion picture celebrities, including Roy Rogers, Gary Cooper, Red Skelton, Dinah Shore and June Haver, are scheduled to pay tribute to the Legion in the brilliant pageant of stars.

The performance will be opened by Ezio Pinza, metropolitan opera tenor and star of "South Pacific," singing the national anthem.

The performance will be opened by Ezio Pinza, metropolitan opera tenor and star of "South Pacific," singing the national anthem.

Until Steadman took over the responsibility, Langius had to make the decisions on where to cut projects and hope his decisions would not displease the legislature too much.

Out of eight proposed projects bid on yesterday the low bids were well over appropriations in all but one of the projects.

The lone project which came within the money allocated would provide alterations to the auditorium at Lapeer State Home and Training school. The low bid of $23,871 was submitted by the Vesely Construction Co. of Inkster.

On all the other projects bid on, the specifications will have to be reduced enough to fit them into the available money or they will have to be abandoned until the legislature provides more money.

Truman Will Confer With MacArthur On Far East Problems

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur will meet somewhere in the Pacific this weekend for talks sweeping the whole range of critical Far Eastern problems.

The chief executive, with a party of military and diplomatic advisers, planned to leave today (3:30 p. m. EST) on his first leg of the long flight which he will resume at St. Louis Thursday night.

No Sudden Emergency

The party is due at Honolulu in the Hawaiian Islands Friday, and the two men, with MacArthur coming from Tokyo, will meet over the weekend somewhere west of Hawaii. The exact location, and whether it would be on an island or a ship, were not disclosed.

Plans were announced yesterday without any advance speculation, but White House Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters, "It is the result of no sudden emergency."

The talks will be the first meeting between the president and MacArthur, who has not been back to the United States since 1937.

Administration officials expect the conference to produce a far better understanding between the two men on some issues, notably Formosa, which have divided them in the past as well as on development of U. S. Far Eastern policy in the future.

Headline Punch Wanted

In addition, Mr. Truman's home—front position can be expected to be strengthened in two respects by the brief, spectacular meeting.

1. It will no longer be possible for his critics to accuse him of having failed to consult MacArthur on controversial Far Eastern matters—a charge which some Republicans have thrown at the president for a long time.

2. The meeting will dramatize a deep presidential interest in MacArthur and his views and in the Korean crisis shortly in advance of the congressional elections—some of which may turn on Far Eastern questions.

In this respect the president's plans provide him with a 1-2-3 headline punch.

First comes the meeting with the United States Far Eastern commander who is also the United Nations commander for Korea; second, the chief executive will make a foreign policy speech in San Francisco on Oct. 17 immediately after seeing MacArthur; and third, he will address the general assembly at New York on United Nations day, Oct. 24.

Army Strength Moves Toward Million Mark

Policy Not Decided
On National Guard

By ELTON C. FAY

AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON—(P)—The military gave its army expansion program another boost today with a new call for 40,000 more draftees, while at the same time it tried to decide what should be future policy about using National Guard divisions.

The new draft call, issued last night, is for 40,000 inductees during December. It raises the total of calls since the defense program started to 210,000.

Added to men already in the army or brought in under federalization of National Guard units and call up of reservists, this indicates the army has or will have within a few months more than 970,000 men. That does not include an unspecified but presumably substantial number of men in reserve units brought into active duty during the last three months.

The army's reported objective under the 3,000,000-man armed force proposed by President Truman, is between 1,300,000 and 1,500,000 men.

Thus it seems probable the objective can be reached perhaps by next spring—if training facilities and other physical limitations on

Soo Boy Still Eludes Posse

Gun Fugitive Seen At Dollar Settlement

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(P)—Eight carloads of gun-toting searchers closed in today on fugitive Donald Cole.

Tracking the 18-year-old youth through dense forests, state police said a capture may be near.

The elusive Cole has dodged posse patrols since last Saturday, when he shot two young girls and then fled to the woods.

"We've got the first break in the case now," said one trooper. The hunt narrowed to a forested area near the tiny community of Dollar Settlement, 34 miles east of here, after Cole slipped into a grocery store at dusk last night, loaded up on food and again vanished.

Dollar Settlement is four miles east of the camp at Pendell's Creek where the 18-year-old Cole shot and critically wounded Pauline Parady, 14, and Myrna Benson, 12, last Saturday.

The youth fled into the woods after the shooting and has evaded armed searching parties since. He was reported still armed with the same .22 caliber rifle used in the shooting.

The two girls are patients at War Memorial hospital here. Myrna was shot in the abdomen, while Pauline was paralyzed by a bullet in the spine.

Kelly And Williams Exchange Verbal Jabs

(By The Associated Press)

Gov. G. Mennen Williams declared in a campaign speech last night "The Republican party does not want a large vote" in the November general election.

He replied to a charge made by the Republican nominee for governor, Harry F. Kelly, that Democrats are paying up to $1 a name to get voters registered.

This crossfire occurred in the Upper Peninsula where both gubernatorial candidates today pressed their bids for votes. Other candidates for state offices accompanied them.

At Houghton Monday, former Gov. Kelly asserted Democratic registration tactics amounted to "buying votes." He declared the CIO political action committee (PAC) paid union members to bring in lists of voters who have registered.

Kelly termed the electorate a big jury and asserted "Those who oppose us are taking the most unusual means to pack that jury."

Williams showed up at Houghton Tuesday and replied thus to Kelly's blast:

"I have been going up and down the state trying to get people to get out and vote, but here in your own town the Republican candidate for governor said this is unfair, it is packing the jury against the Republican party. He thus admits clearly that the Republican party does not want a large vote. He admits that he does not want you to go to the polls on Nov. 7, because he is afraid you will vote Democratic."

Williams reiterated his countercharge in a speech at Ironwood last night.

"The jury is the whole electorate of Michigan," Williams said, "and if we get that jury in the box we're going to put the whole Democratic ticket in."

In a characteristic platform tactic, Williams took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and shouted: "We'll have to get out and work, rap on every door. If people are not registered, we'll have to register them."

In Marquette last night, Kelly renewed his attack on Williams as what he termed a sponsor of former Socialists. He said they have played important roles with the Americans for democratic action (ADA) in taking over the Democratic party.

At Ironwood, Williams also stressed the need for good roads. He declared "We haven't had a real road building program since the days of Pat Van Wagoner."

He referred to the Democratic administration of M. Van Wagoner whom Kelly succeeded as governor in 1943.

Williams' itinerary today takes in Iron River, Iron Mountain and Escanaba, again crossing paths with Kelly who appears at Iron Mountain and Escanaba.

Mt. Clemens Boy, 15 Denies Knife Killing; Says He Dreamed It

MT. CLEMENS, Mich.—(P)—Rodney McRae, 15-year-old high school football player, has repudiated his confession he killed little Joey Housley.

"I dreamed it," the youth told Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly yesterday.

Then why did he flee by boat across Lake St. Clair to Canada to keep from being questioned about the knife-slashing of the eight-year-old neighbor lad?

The youth declared, "it was because of what my mother said about killing herself if I didn't go out into the lake. She had said things like that before."

"I confessed a dream," McRae told Judge Trombly. He testified at a hearing to determine whether he is to be tried as an adult on a first degree murder charge or treated as a juvenile.

Joe disappeared from his home in St. Clair shores, a Detroit suburb, Sept. 9. Two weeks later the lad's body was found in a shallow grave in a woods.

The finger of suspicion turned to McRae. He was known to have a razor that he used in making model airplanes. He had been seen with Joey. He fled by boat to Canada.

Police traced him to the home of a relative in Sarnia, Ont. He blurted out a story of killing Joey with a knife and burying the body. He had no motive to kill.

But yesterday McRae insisted he was "all mixed up and confused" when state police talked to him.

McRae said his parents thought something was wrong because he told them he didn't want to take a lie detector test.

Red China Ships Eggs Into U. S.

Bakeries Buy Cheap Powdered Imports

SEATTLE—(P)—A Seattle waterfront warehouse was jammed with powdered eggs from Communist China today. The 700 tons are awaiting transshipment to New York for distribution to eastern bakeries.

News stories about the Chinese eggs kicked up an immediate furor.

A former egg man told the Post-Intelligencer that the Chinese eggs could undersell the American surplus variety in this country.

The government has brought up 81,830,043 pounds of surplus U. S. eggs so far this year at 96 cents a pound for the powdered variety, the same price the government would charge domestic users. For export the powdered U. S. eggs go for 20 cents a pound.

Alex M. Ryce Jr., of W. J. Byrnes & Co., the customs house brokers handling the Chinese eggs, said such shipments have been coming in "for 35 years" and that "there's nothing unusual about it."

Allied Forces Closing In On Enemy Capital

Communists Ordered
Not To Surrender

TOKYO—(P)—Red Koreans fought bitter no-surrender actions today against three allied forces striking toward the Communist capital, Pyongyang.

The highest ranking American on the fighting front, Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay of the First Cavalry Division, said the Red forces were doomed and the taking of Pyongyang was only a matter of time.

"These cookies are beaten," Gay told war correspondents at cavalry headquarters.

Can't Quit Now
The Allied forward groups comprising four South Korean divisions (ROKs) and most of the First Cavalry were inside Red Korea less than 75 miles from Pyongyang. They were driving on the capital from the south, southeast and east.

Red Premier Kim Il Sung told the 10,000,000 people of North Korea in a broadcast message they could not surrender.

"Our motherland is now face to face with a grave crisis," Kim said.

He ordered his shattered troops to "fight until the final day of victory...overcoming all difficulties."

Kim's message was obviously an answer to General MacArthur's second and "last time" surrender ultimatum of last Sunday, but the Red premier did not mention it.

On the east, two ROK divisions were mopping up small holdout forces in the strategic east coast industrial port of Wonsan, 95 air line miles east of Pyongyang.

Brick Bastions Built

HANOI, Indochina (Delayed)—(P)—The French army is feverishly pushing work on a web of permanent fortifications to hold 500 square miles of newly-conquered territory north of Hanoi.

In a 12-day offensive just ended, six battalions—about 4,200 men—cut a swath through a triangular region of flat ricefields 40 miles north of this chief city of North Indochina.

This action was south of the Cochin-China border region where five French battalions were almost completely wiped out during the weekend by Communist-led guerrillas.

Vietminh forces dug pits and wide gaps in the road to block the rolling equipment. The French had to make long hauls to replace the filler material.

Army construction units have started to build 30 medieval-type brick fortresses in the new territory. The big anchor fortification will be at Thai Nguyen. Several positions already have been ringed with thick fences of sharpened bamboo sticks.

Hourly Pay Rates Set For Clerk, Treasurer

Departing from the traditional flat annual salary plan, the Delta county board of supervisors yesterday approved payment of salaries for two elective county officers on the basis of an hourly rate.

The county treasurer and the county clerk and register of deeds will each receive salary at the rate of $1.60 per hour, or approximately $3,000 each for a work year not to exceed 1,846 hours. The total hours include two weeks vacation and 12 holidays with pay.

The plan, which includes hourly rates of pay for deputy treasurer, deputy clerk and register of deeds, register of probate, and for clerk hire in some county offices, was adopted on recommendation of the county board's finance committee.

Correct 'Conditions'

C. W. Stoll, finance committee chairman, said the hourly basis for payment of salary of the county treasurer and county clerk and register of deeds was "toward correcting the conditions which now exist in two of your county offices."

The committee report cited that the treasurer has been criticized "a number of times in the past for his absence from the county office, and when there, the amount of work he has done."

"The county clerk, on account of illness, has not done any work in his office since Nov. 15, 1949." He has received his salary each pay day and this will continue until his successor is elected and takes office, the report added.

Paid For Work

"Your committee feels that the laws of the state intend that all officers of this county shall be paid a just salary for the amount of work done. We doubt it was intended that an officer should be paid for not working. Where favoritism is shown or special privileges given to any employees of the county, and the Clerk and Treasurer are employees of the county, the result is that the other employees become dissatisfied, their work suffers and the county is the loser."

By placing the salary on an hourly basis for work performed for the county, the committee believes the condition will be corrected, the offices will be on a better business-like basis, and better service will be given the community, it was reported.

Means Pay Increase

Actually the county treasurer and the county clerk and register of deeds (the latter offices are combined) will receive an increase in pay under the hourly rate plan.

On a full-time work basis the county treasurer will receive $2,953.60 and the county clerk and register of deeds the same amount. The treasurer at present receives $2,500 and the clerk and register of deeds $2,850.

But there is no provision for a full-time deputy treasurer or a full-time deputy clerk. Both offices will be allowed a sum not to exceed $900 each for deputy and extra clerk hire to be paid at the rate of $1.40 per hour.

Rate For Clerk Hire

Provision is made, however, for a full-time deputy register of deeds, who will be paid $1 per hour for an annual total of about $1,846. This pay schedule is subject to revision at the April meeting of the board.

The register of probate will receive about $2,125 a year at the rate of $1.15 per hour, as compared to a 1950 salary of $1,980.

Extra clerk hire for the offices of register of deeds and judge of probate will be allowed at a rate not to exceed $1 per hour; not to exceed in total $1,000 for the register of deeds and $600 for the judge of probate.

Stenographers in the offices of the county agricultural agent and the county school superintendent will be paid at the rate of 90 cents and 80 cents, respectively.

Ask Work Reports Salary warrants will not be issued unless the person in charge of each office makes "a statement under oath in writing to the county clerk showing the number of hours worked by the employee for the pay period."

Recognizing possibility that the establishment of the "no work, no pay" hourly rate plan for paying the salaries of the two county elective officials, the committee stipulates that if the pay is decided by the courts to be illegal or unconstitutional, the annual salary of the treasurer will be $2,100 and the clerk-register of deeds $2,400.

Office of the county clerk and county treasurer will be open from 9 to 12 a. m., and 1:30 to 5 p. m., each week day except Saturday, when the hours will be 9 to 12 a. m., a total of 35½ hours. The offices will be closed on national holidays and election days, as in the past.

Must Be Set Now No changes were made in the salary of probate judge, agricultural agent, judge of probate, prosecuting attorney or sheriff. The report of the committee, adopted by the board of supervisors, concludes:

"There cannot be claimed that this change had any political implications. The only time the Board can change salaries of elective officers is just before election. The Board has tried in the past various methods to increase the efficiency of the offices of Clerk and Treasurer, but no good results have been obtained."

The savings of the new plan, represented in dollars and cents, is shown in the appropriations of the board for operation of the offices, as follows:

County treasurer's office—1950 appropriation $6,440; 1951 appropriation $4,940.

County clerk's office—1950 appropriation $6,570; 1951 appropriation $5,100.

Register of deeds office administered by county clerk—1950 appropriation $5,150; 1951 appropriation $4,270.

School Board Buys Property

Moves To Protect 39-Acre Tract

The Escanaba board of education in meeting last night approved the purchase for $20,000 of a 39-acre tract of land from Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Bridges.

Located west of South 23rd street, the area has a two-block frontage on that street between Third and Fifth avenues south.

The area is one of two being considered by the board of education and its Citizens Advisory Committee as possible sites for a new Escanaba Senior high school. The other is the present Junior High school area.

Not Decide Site

The Citizens Advisory Committee has informally recommended to the board that it "protect" the 23rd street acreage until a decision is made on the question of the proposed Senior High location. It was emphasized at the board meeting last night that no site decision has been made and that further consideration of the question will follow meetings of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Rising building costs may delay the contemplated construction. Supt. John A. Lemmer advised the board last night. Decisions on the site and on financing also must be made before further action is taken.

School needs surveys are already under way in the community, and these findings will be referred to the board and the Advisory Committee. Dr. L. E. Vrededvoe, director of the bureau of school services, University of Michigan, will be in Escanaba again tomorrow in connection with the school survey.

Widen Field Track

Other business before the board last night included the following: Approved the hiring of Cleve Moore of Escanaba as member of the school custodial staff.

Approved the construction of curbs on the track at the athletic field to widen it and provide a six-lane running track. This work is to be financed by the High School Athletic Association and when completed will permit holding Upper Peninsula track and field meets here without difficulty. The cost is estimated at $12,000.

Received reports by C. Gust Peterson and Claude Tobin, board members, of their attendance at a conference of Michigan School Board Members and School Officials at Ann Arbor.

To Purchase Desks Approved payment of $3,700 to the Steel-Crete Construction company, Milwaukee, leaving $1,000 owing on the total price of $57,200 for the construction of the high school athletic field. The remaining $1,000 will be paid when final work is completed.

Approved the purchase of 360 additional desks for improvement of seating in the grade schools.

Received a report from Supt. Lemmer that approximately $885 had been cleared by the music department as sponsors of the U. S. Marine Band concert.

Get Out Vote Drive Started

Junior C-C Plans Campaign Here

Meeting last night in the marine room at the House of Ludington the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce made final plans for its campaign to "get out the vote" for the November election.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is urging eligible voters to register before the deadline Oct. 13, and to vote in the election Nov. 7.

At the general membership meeting last night there was discussion of the organization's membership drive, now in full swing. A report on the progress of the drive was made by Dr. Vernon Johnson.

The health and social problem of venereal disease was discussed by Charles Paquin of the Michigan Department of Health, who is in the Upper Peninsula as an investigator of cases reported by physicians to local health departments.

Present for the discussion on venereal disease were Edward E. Edick, Escanaba Senior high school principal; George Ruwitch, assistant principal; Hagie Quarnstrom, county school superintendent; and Walter Peters, Rapid River school superintendent.

The next meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Nov. 2 in the House of Ludington. Gene Anderson, Michigan president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Allen Parks, vice president, and other state officers, will be present.

"I am a plasterer by trade, so when rheumatism and arthritis settled in my shoulders and hands, the pain was so great I could hardly work. I suffered for six months continually and my fingers got so stiff I could hardly bend them. I tried about everything that I heard of, just trying to get a little relief, but nothing seemed to help until I started taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS.

"I took it about three weeks before I saw much change, but then I am happy to say, relief was quick in coming, and by the time I had taken O-JIB-WA just two months, the pain and stiffness had entirely left me. Today, I feel more alive and better than I have in years, and O-JIB-WA has not only relieved my rheumatism and arthritis, but also did away with gas and indigestion that used to bother me continually, and in my opinion, is the best medicine being sold in Michigan today."

A Corrective Medicine Made Entirely of Herbs

O-JIB-WA BITTERS is not just a food supplement, but an all herb medicine entirely free of alcohol and pain deadening drugs. This great medicine acts to correct the causes of rheumatism, arthritis and common stomach disorders. O-JIB-WA is like taking 5 medicines in 1, as it acts to clear the blood of poisons and waste that foster rheumatism and arthritis. O-JIB-WA promotes better digestion, stopping gas, indigestion and heartburn. O-JIB-WA stimulates weak sluggish kidneys to relieve backaches, nite rising and restless sleep. Regardless of how long you have suffered or what you have tried without results, you owe it to yourself to give O-JIB-WA BITTERS a chance to help you. ACT IMMEDIATELY, YOU WILL NOT BE DISAPPOINTED. Available in all leading drug stores in Michigan.

School Millage Vote Monday

Escanaba Township Considers Bonding

Escanaba township school electors will hold a special election Monday to vote on proposals to raise the millage and to bond the township for $75,000 for the construction of a new school.

Hagler Quarnstrom, county school superintendent, said the voters are being asked to raise 15 mills for 20 years for funds to be added to $33,000 already raised by a five mill tax levy which ends this year.

He said the school board feels it will need a 13 mill levy for three or four years, 9.7 mills through 13th year and 6.1 mills for the 14th and 15th year. Quarnstrom explained that the law requires that the district approve the millage increase for 20 years even though it may not be necessary to levy it that long.

The money can be used only for building. If the proposals are adopted, it is planned to build a seven room school on a site already selected near the Flat Rock church. The building would house a 4-H club shop and lunch room.

Quarnstrom said teacher load at the four rural schools—Nadon built in 1917, Howard built in 1930 and Carroll and Sovey now in their third generations—averages 42 students. The state recommends not more than 30 for each teacher. There are about 250 pupils attending school in the district, he said.

Board members are: President, Archibald; Secretary, George Rappette; Treasurer, Oliver Chenier; and trustees, Mrs. Margaret Srock, and Wilfred Richer.

Delta Budget For '51 Approved at $266,895

Welfare and road financing problems of county-wide importance were solved, at least temporarily, by the Delta county board of supervisors meeting in October budget session.

Admittedly "stop-gap," participation of the cities and townships in diverting sales tax revenue for county welfare and road purposes aided the county in financing the welfare and road department programs for the coming year.

The board in closing session yesterday afternoon adopted a 1951 budget calling for appropriations totaling $266,895.50, compared to the 1950 budget of $236,829.02.

Aid Roads, Welfare

The budget is based on anticipated revenues including $218,648 from county taxes, $8,000 in other receipts, $18,000 in delinquent tax payments, and $45,575 from the townships and cities and the village of Garden to assist in financing welfare and roads.

Contributing toward the welfare-roads "kitty" of approximately $45,000, the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone will appropriate a total of $20,000 and the townships and the village of Garden a total of $25,000.

Of this total $45,000, the county road commission will receive $30,000 and the welfare department $15,000. The $15,000 to the welfare department will be matched by $15,000 from the county general fund, making a total of $30,000 additional for welfare.

County In The Black

The "stop-gap" plan of financing roads and welfare requires 100 per cent participation by all of the units. The plan will be worked out on an equitable per capita basis for all participating units, and is similar to last year's $51,000 additional fund-raising for roads and welfare.

In addition the townships are expected to continue their support of the road commission by sponsoring road projects within their own townships. The road commission may also "borrow" from county funds to the amount of $40,000.

Guam. Both are graduates of Kingsford high school.

The finance committee reported to the board that the county is now out of the red in 1950 and will have an anticipated balance of approximately $8,000 at the end of 1951.

Appropriation Figures

The increase in the budget for miscellaneous is to pay for the proposed purchase of a modern recording system in the office of the register of deeds. The cost of the system is estimated at $12,000.

The appropriations for 1951, together with appropriations for 1950 for comparison, are as follows:

Police Report Indicates Better Enforcement Of Traffic Laws

SHARP increases in the number of traffic violation tickets issued by local police during the past three months, with the largest increases apparent in September, may indicate either that police are becoming more vigilant, or that there are more traffic violators now than before. We prefer to believe that better law enforcement is the reason for the increase.

There were 2 1/4 times as many traffic violation tickets issued in September than there were in July. Increases were reported in virtually every type of traffic violation. Perhaps more significantly, a wider variety of violations were ticketed in September than in any of the previous months. This means, of course, that the police are now issuing violation tickets for offenses that were formerly ignored.

All of this is a prelude to plans for instituting in Escanaba the uniform traffic enforcement system that is being used with considerable success in nearly 80 Michigan cities. Under this system an individual record is maintained for every traffic violator. The repeaters then are quickly spotted and they are penalized in accordance with their record as drivers.

Uniform penalties are assessed in justice court under this system. Moreover, if a motorist violates traffic regulations in other cities maintaining the uniform traffic enforcement system, that record is forwarded to his home town to become a part of his driver record.

Escanaba has developed an infamous record as a community of careless drivers. We can rid our town of this bad reputation by making motorists conscious of their responsibilities—which requires good enforcement of the traffic laws. This does not mean that we have to set up motorist traps either.

Stassen-Stalin Talks Would Serve Kremlin

OFFHAND it might seem that no great harm could come from a face to face talk between Harold Stassen and Joseph Stalin, as the former Minnesota governor proposes. Stassen, not being a representative of the U. S. government, could make known to Stalin America's determination to resist all Soviet aggression. He could reaffirm our great desire for lasting peace. But nothing he would say would formally commit the U. S. government to anything at all.

The United States might learn, in return, the current thinking in the Kremlin on the outlook for peace and a settlement of major world issues. Theoretically, a clearing of the international atmosphere might follow. The trouble with Stassen's plan is that Russia never enters discussions of this sort with sincere and honest motives. Right now Soviet leaders face a damaging defeat in Korea. More than that, they look out upon an aroused Western world that is arming as never before to meet their every advance into fresh territory. Many signs already have appeared that Moscow is softening its attitude, almost certainly with the aim of lulling the West back into its old state of false security. Soviet representatives at the UN mention "peace talks."

Who can believe these overtures are genuine? Blowing hot and cold is a standard Russian technique. If the Russians could succeed now in weakening the West's resolve to rearm, they could cancel out much of the loss they suffered by touching off the Korean war.

To accept their overtures at face value would be merely to play their game. For the same reason, conversations between Stassen and Stalin would play into Soviet hands. They would surely use the opportunity to offer stout assurances of their peaceful aims, their wish to make the UN a force for world order, and so on. Stassen would be a perfect foil for a device that could easily deceive the world once more about true Russian purposes. Indeed, Stassen may well be just the man they're looking for. By dint of his ability to command a large American and Western audience, he would be a fine mouthpiece for Moscow's latest peace propaganda.

It would be little short of criminal to have the world's hopes of peace raised falsely again, as they have been so many times by cynical Russian leaders bent upon global conquest.

Until Russia gives evidence by deed rather than word that she means "peace" when she says it, we in the West ought to limit her chances to throw verbal smoke screens. A man-to-man Stassen-Stalin talk would probably serve just exactly the opposite end—and thus help the Soviet Union.

Compromise?

By Gordon Martin

In the course of all domestic life, some problems will arise, which demand a little give-and-take to reach a compromise. You may think that your position is the only one correct, while your wife declares her point of view is one you must respect. So you've got to break the deadlock but no sooner is it done, than you wonder just what hit you and just who it was who won.

It may be a minor matter that will cause a verbal bout, such as whether you should stay at home or spend the evening out. Or perhaps a major issue is involved in your dispute—should you trade your old car in because it looks so destitute? But whatever is the question, when you put it to the test, it's a cinch your wife will tell you that a compromise is best.

And just what the compromise will be, she outlines very quick, saying she is giving plenty while you're losing not a trick. So your smile is quite complacent as you readily agree, and it isn't until later that the net result you see. Then at last it dawns upon you that she really had her say, and when compromise is needed, it is always done her way.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—With manpower the most precious thing in the armed forces, some of the brass hats still don't seem to realize that the G. I.'s time is valuable. Every hour he is kept in useless lineups cuts down his training period and his preparation for the battle front.

The other day at Camp Pickett, Va., for instance, the entire camp was herded on the parade ground, then kept waiting two hours to hear a pep talk by Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff.

Camp commanders seemed to think the G. I.'s had no more important training than to stand two hours waiting for the general to arrive.

Collins, a great fighting officer, gave a forthright talk, but left one sentence ringing in G. I. ears.

"Don't misunderstand me," he said, "I'm a great believer in rank and the prestige of rank."

While he was speaking, two congressmen also happened to drop in at Camp Pickett—Democrats Wayne Hays of Ohio and John McGuire of Connecticut. Having no brass to flash, all they got was the run-around. Finally, they located a lieutenant colonel at headquarters and told them they wanted to visit.

"You can't see anyone," tartly retorted the officer. "These fellows are busy. They are being marched to the parade ground to hear General Collins."

"What's to prevent us from going over?" asked Congressman Hays.

"We're all busy," mumbled the lieutenant colonel. "You can park your car and walk over to the hill if you want to."

The two congressmen stayed to see how the draftees were being treated, and later got a more hospitable reception from Camp Pickett officers. They have decided, however, that it would be a good idea to drop in at the other camps for congressional inspections.

Note—What Gen. Collins was driving at when he emphasized the importance of rank was that every enlisted man has a chance to be promoted, and that junior officers and non-coms are the backbone of the army.

KAISER'S GAMBLE

Private enterprise, according to some people, is dead. But the other day, Henry Kaiser proved that it isn't. He paid $87,000,000 back to Uncle Sam which he had borrowed on a gamble that big business had branded as foolhardy.

Back in the early stages of World War II, Kaiser, then building ships at breakneck speed, was frequently short of steel. Finally, he decided to build a steel plant in Southern California, the first of its kind in that part of the nation. Heretofore, the big steel companies of the Pittsburgh-Cleveland-Youngstown area had dominated all markets, even supplying the west coast.

They argued that the west was too sparsely populated to support a steel industry of its own, flatly refused to expand in that region. At Geneva, Utah, the U. S. government, contending that the big steel companies were wrong, pioneered its own plant for western operation.

But even farther west, and without government subsidy, Kaiser erected the Fontana steel mill, wholly owned by himself though financed with a wartime loan of $123,850,000.

After the war, when competitors expected Fontana to close down, Kaiser expanded. He has paid $21,000,000 to the RFC on interest alone, expanded his plant with $30,000,000 of private funds, and the other day repaid all the money borrowed from the government.

Kaiser's gamble in private enterprise is in contrast to various other private steel companies which waited for the government to set up its own plants, then bought them in after the war, for a song.

U. S. Steel, for instance, purchased the government's Geneva, Utah, plant for 20 cents on the dollar. It also purchased Uncle Sam's steel mills at Homestead and Duquesne, Pa., for 33 cents on the dollar, and a blast furnace at Duluth, Minn., for 24 cents on the dollar. The total government investment in these plants was $527,000,000. The price paid for them by U. S. Steel after the war was $148,000,000.

Republic Steel also bought the government's South Chicago plant for 30 cents on the dollar, while Inland Steel picked up two government blast furnaces at Indiana Harbor, Ind., for 38 cents on the dollar.

Meanwhile, Kaiser, the man who believes that private initiative is not dead, paid 100 cents on the dollar, plus interest.

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

Q. Up in this part of the country (Milwaukee) many people call a kitchen sink a "zinc." Will you please see what your Pronunciation Clinic has to say about the word?—Mrs. J. B.

A. The word sink should be pronounced with the initial sound of "s," thus: sink. The noun sink originally designated a place into which filth sank or was collected. Some of this meaning still survives in such expressions as: sinks of iniquity; the skum and sink of mankind; sinkholes, etc.

The kitchen sink is so called because it is a basin equipped with a water supply and a drain, and is used principally for the washing of food, utensils, and dishes, and disposing of the waste water and bits of refuse by flushing down the drain pipe. The pronunciation "zink," while dialectal, is frequently heard, especially in rural communities.

I have two theories about it. (1) It came about by confusion with the word zinc, since the ancestor of the modern kitchen sink was a crude basin made of soldered sheets of galvanized iron—iron coated by galvanization with a film of zinc.

Plastic Bottle Wins Converts From Glass As Output Soars

By T. A. WISE

The glass bottle, already staggered by the competitive onrush of the tin can and fibre container, is facing another threat.

New assailant: The plastic bottle, one-fifth the weight of its glass counterpart and shatter-proof.

Its rise has been meteoric. The first plastic bottles made their commercial debut late in 1946. In 1948 about 18 million were produced, and in mid-1950 they were rolling off production lines at an estimated annual rate of 65 million. One big plastic maker thinks this will double by the year-end. Even more optimistic estimates put 1950 production at close to 200 million.

They're Still Peanuts

Compared with the output of glass bottles, fibre containers and cans, the plastic bottle is still small peanuts, of course. Glass bottle production, for example, is estimated to have topped 12 billion units in 1949.

But what gives cheer to both the big chemical concerns which produce the plastic and the companies which turn it into bottles is the way they're winning new converts. A year ago there were about 40 products going into the new containers. Today there are over 400, and the list is mounting daily.

Many leading drug and cosmetic firms are packaging their wares in the plastic containers. R. V. Vosburgh, sales manager of Injection Molding Co. of Kansas City, Mo., says his company numbers among its customers the Jergens Co., Helena Rubenstein, Lehn & Fink, American Home Products, and Fuller Brush. The industry thinks Injection Molding is probably the second largest producer of plastic bottles.

The Squeeze Bottle

One of the first—and most spectacular—uses of the bottles was by Jules Montenier & Co., makers of Stoptet Deodorant. The plastics used for containers belong to the general family called "polyethylene" plastics. And one of their characteristics is that they are rubberlike and easily squeezed.

Montenier put its liquid deodorant in one of these "squeeze bottles," so it can be sprayed as from an atomizer.

Now anti-fog sprays for windshields and eye glasses are coming out in squeeze bottles. So are perfumes. The Nestle-Le Mur Co. of Meriden, Conn., found that spraying its hair lacquer from bottles kept them from clogging.

Such well known cosmetic names as Tussy use plastic bottles to achieve novel container shapes like snowman and gingerbread boys. The bottles are finding a place in industry and agriculture, too. Southern turpentine farmers are using them to spray their pine trees with sulfuric acid, steeping up the flow of the turpentine-bearing gum. The drug firm of Merck & Co. is putting up concentrated hydrogen peroxide in plastic containers. Sodium fluoride used by dentists and hydrofluoric acid used for removing rust from fabrics are now being stored in polyethylene bottles. Glass containers holding these acids had to be coated with wax to prevent their being gradually eaten away.

Attack on Medicine Chest

With progress like this, both the plastic makers and the bottle makers are confident that their new container's success is just beginning. Fairly typical in the attitude of George C. Miller, he's general sales manager of Union Carbide & Carbon Corp's Bakelite Division, which with E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. produce polyethylene.

Mr. Miller says that the use of plastic bottles is increasing so rapidly that "before many years the majority of containers found in the average medicine chest may well be made from this material." About 3,300 million glass medicinal and cosmetic bottles are produced annually.

The big question mark confronting the plastic bottle of course, is what effect the rearmament effort will have on the supplies of polyethylene plastics. Even before Korea, the 50 million pounds produced annually by du Pont and Union Carbide wasn't enough to go round. Makers of frozen food wrappers, shower curtains, tableware, ice cube trays and hundreds of other household items use the plastic too.

K Ration Competition

Now consumption by the armed services is expected to rise sharply. Polyethylene plastic helps keep K rations fresh; it forms part of the lining in the barrel of recoilless artillery pieces; it coats electrical wire and is used in radar equipment.

This month military demands are taking only about 10 percent of output. But, a spokesman for one producer states, "If the future requirements reach the level being discussed it will take every ounce of production we have and more." Both duPont and Union Carbide are expanding their facilities. About 100 million pounds of polyethylene will be made next year, double present production.

Currently plastic bottles are being turned out by about half a dozen manufacturers, whose plants are scattered across the country. The biggest producer is Plax Corp. of Hartford, Conn. Plax was started in 1938 by the Hartford Empire Co., which holds a major share of the patents on glass-bottle making machinery.

Airborne Bottles

Plax, like other flexible bottle makers, produces other plastic items. It lays claim to having been the first firm to produce polyethylene in sheet form. The company made its first plastic bottles during World War II, when it turned out two million of them, chiefly as containers for medicine shipped by airplane.

Other big producers include Kansas City's Injection Molding Co., the Elmer E. Mills Corp. of Chicago, and the Beaman Plastic Products Co. of Portland, Ore. Lumelite Corp. of Pawling, N. Y., made the containers until April of this year. But with polyethylene in short supply it decided to use its allotment to make small vials for penicillin and other drug items.

Recently some manufacturers have started to produce plastic bottles for sale to consumers as multi-purpose home containers. Without any direct manufacturer promotion, plastic containers in the form of kits—separate bottles with caps or spray devices—were sold by drug, chain and department stores at prices ranging from 29 cents to 59 cents this summer.

Doctors, Housewives, Traveling Salesmen

A buyer for one of the nation's biggest drug store chains says, housewives are using them to hold shampoos, colognes and rinses on their dressing tables and in their medicine chests. "They like to be able to use something that won't shatter when it slips through soapy hands."

Another drug chain reports that traveling men are using them because "they compress easily, they don't break and they're lighter than glass." Doctors are also buying them to use in their black bags to carry alcohol, peroxide and other medicinal liquids.

The plastic bottle isn't without some important drawbacks, though.

Chief among these, perhaps, is its price—roughly five times that of the glass container. If a manufacturer orders 100,000 four-ounce plastic bottles he will pay $3.92 per thousand. A like number of glass ones would cost $18.35 per thousand. In the past year the price of squeeze bottles has been reduced at least twice. But the manufacturers think the price of raw polyethylene plastic will have to be cut about in half from its present 40-cent a pound level before they can match the glass price.

Shipping Costs Lower

Lower shipping and breakage costs for the plastic containers partially offset their higher price, some users maintain. One concern estimates that it saves $10,000 on its freight bill for every million units it ships in the lighter plastic containers. Another firm finds there are fewer rejects on the bottling line when unbreakable plastic bottles are used instead of glass ones which chip.

One flaw in the plastic bottle itself is that gases and essential oils such as are used in perfume and flavor extract tend to seep through the container. Also seepage sometimes occurs.

Another problem arises from the manufacture of the plastic container. The thickness of the plastic in the bottle's shoulders and sides tends to be uneven. Thus a fancy-fueled bottle runs the risk of crumpling at some points.

So They Say

Because of American aid the Communists are no longer able to fool the peoples of western Europe. We should be proud of President Truman's foreign policy.—Maurice J. Tobin, secretary of labor.

As long as the veto power exists, the UN is a weak reed to lean on.—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R., Ohio).

Universal military training's psychological effect abroad will be of incalculable value to the cause of world peace (if UMT is enacted).—Louis Johnson, secretary of defense.

We need more men in government and diplomacy with a labor background and labor experience because the battleground for the world today is on the worker level.—Eric Johnston, former president of U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

We must remember that if we fail there is no Marshall Plan for us. Should we fail, freedom will fall. It will be the end of freedom not only for us but for all peoples.—James J. Byrnes, former secretary of State.

Good Evening . . .

SIDELIGHTS—The Delta county supervisors have quietly folded their per diem checks and gone home after an October session marked by more than usual wrangling.

It was a lot of sound and fury that signified something, although Mrs. Helen Maude LaMotte, the newly appointed Garden township supervisor and the first woman on the board in the history of the county, blinked her blue eyes and confessed privately that all the argument was puzzling.

The debate and discussion apparently clarified matters somewhat for another year. It will be repeated in October, 1951, unless steps are taken to find more than stop-gap solutions to the county's money problems.

THE FRIENDLY WAY—It may interest you to know that Nevin Reynolds, Escanaba councilman and supervisor, had some words of wisdom concerning that old problem of city-township cooperation.

Every time the board meets to discuss money matters, particularly the financing of county roads, there are charges and counter-charges that one or the other unit—rural or urban—is getting the dirty end of the stick.

Charles Sedenquist, Wells township supervisor, was outspoken in statements that Escanaba was not interested in good roads in the townships and should be more co-operative on a county-wide program.

It was then that Reynolds took the floor in defense of the city and its people in their relationship to the county folks.

WHAT IT HAS DONE—With considerable force, Reynolds pointed out the following facts:

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the service clubs and other organizations in the city have been sponsors of programs for the benefit of the county for many years.

Not the least of these programs, he said, is the Potato Booster contest, begun about ten years ago. The people of the county do not feel that Escanaba business men and Escanaba folks in general are uninterested in county-wide problems. There is good feeling and good understanding between the people of the cities and the townships—and it would be well if some of this feeling were carried into discussions of the county board.

ROADS AND WELFARE—The sharpest division of opinion among the supervisors is on the subject of financing county roads. There seemed to be general agreement on the subject of welfare.

The two are separate problems, yet it has been necessary for additional financing reasons to lump them together in raising funds from the cities and townships. For the best interests of each program, and for the benefit of the county as a whole, it will be better when they can be considered separately again.

In financing roads the people are maintaining a program that provides work. The welfare program is dedicated to relief for the unemployed and unemployable.

NEVER EASY—Several high school students attended the two-day session of the board of supervisors. Leaving the building at recess for lunch the second day, I asked one of the girls what she thought of the deliberations of the board.

"They do an awful lot of wrangling," she replied.

We might have told her that we have been observing the Delta county board for the past eight years—and they "wrangle" every time they meet in budget session, and sometimes in the spring at equalization session.

And we might have added that considerable argument will also be heard in the legislature in Lansing, and in the halls of Congress.

The democratic processes at work are never easy for the participants and sometimes confusing to the inexperienced. Out of the debate comes agreement in solving the problems of the people—the goal of government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Tokyo—Under Japan's questioning eyes, the Washington-advised withdrawal of American citizens from the Orient gained headway tonight amid nervous tension and a deepening American conviction that Tokyo-Washington relations were nearing a zero hour.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Leo LaViolette, 206 South Sixth street, are leaving today for Toledo and Chicago, where they will visit with the latter's brothers, Dan and Ben Holmes.

Escanaba—Miss Mary Alice Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Kennedy, 525 South 11th street, first year student at the Michigan State college, East Lansing, was won a place in the college orchestra, an unusual honor for a freshman student.

Station At Grand Marais Airport Closes Saturday

GRAND MARAIS — The communications station at Grand Marais municipal airport under the jurisdiction of the Civil Aeronautics Administration will be closed officially at midnight Saturday, Oct. 14.

All regular personnel have received travel orders to take effect Oct. 15. Chief Communicator Louis MacFall will return to his previous station at his hometown, Minot, Minn.

Four Grand Marais men, stationed here, have received transfers: Alfred Lundquist, jr., to Joliet, Ill.; Douglas Mulligan to Pellston, Mich.; Harold Beldrum, Bowling Green, Ky.; and Frank Picel, Gladwin, Mich.

Range Station in Operation

The range station at Grand Marais which transmits the beam used by the Trans-Canadian Airlines in flight from Fort William, Can., to Toronto, Can., via Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., will remain in operation. William L. Little, CAA maintenance technician, will be stationed at Grand Marais for this purpose. He will maintain also teletypes at the Escanaba weather station.

Grand Marais personnel will be transferred and the station closed to offset heavy work loads in other stations. Two other stations in the third region of the CAA headquarters, Chicago, to be closed are at Willmar, Minn., and Pembina, N. D. This is a reorganization of aids to air navigation.

The Grand Marais municipal airport is a joint operation of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics and the Trans-Canadian Airlines and has been in operation since Sept. 1, 1947. Previous to that time the radio operators were employed by the Trans-Canadian Airlines.

Maintenance Continues

The closing of the communications departments does not effect the maintenance department of the Grand Marais municipal airport which is under the direction of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

Maintenance personnel remaining includes Francis Lundquist, manager, Alex Niemi, jr., Theodore Senecal and George Savan.

The field remains in operation on a 24 hour a day schedule.

Lake Huron Collision Brings $102,950 Suit

DETROIT.—(AP)—A $102,950 personal injury suit was filed in federal court Monday in the June 25 collision of two ships in Lake Huron.

The suit was brought by Talma G. Spooner, 45, of Benton Harbor, who alleged that he suffered fractured ribs, a collapsed lung and other injuries.

Spooner charged that both ships, The City of Cleveland III and the Norwegian freighter Ravnfjell, were negligent. Spooner, a passenger on the cruise ship, was flung into the water from his stateroom.

The plaintiff said neither vessel kept a proper lookout or sounded correct fog signals. He also charged that both were in wrong navigation lanes.

HEALTHY, WEALTHY

why?

America is the healthiest great Nation in the world. Americans live more abundantly than any people in the world. why?

Not because somebody passed a law. But because the founding fathers were WISE. Because they turned away from dependence on Government. Because they believed that real security is based on individual initiative.

Americans today believe that, too. That is why America is the symbol of human Freedom . . . the bulwark of world liberty!

The strength of America is the product of creative, free initiative. America's health is the best in the world. A free medical profession will keep it so.

Freely, without compulsion, over 70 million Americans have secured the best medical care in the world, through Voluntary Health Insurance, preparing the major costs of illness.

INSURANCE OF EVERY KIND

You know from experience that you can depend on your doctor and his judgment.

At present your doctor is disturbed about two things: Socialization of medicine, with its dangers. And loss of your individual freedom resulting from federal control of medicine.

This week through the American Medical Association, he is directing important messages to you. Via newspapers, radio and magazines, he is reminding you that the voluntary way is the American way.

Your doctor believes that you, yourself, can best choose the sort of health insurance you need. He believes that the voluntary health insurance plan is part of our American way of life. It is based on individual freedom . . . not on government regimentation.

Heed these messages. Learn why your doctor urges you to (1) oppose government regimentation of medicine, and (2) choose for yourself a voluntary plan of financial protection against sickness or accident.

These Are Among the Types of Voluntary Health Insurance

Sickness & Accident Insurance

... "Income Replacement" insurance that gives you a monthly income should sickness or accident take you off the job.

Hospitalization Insurance

... that helps pay for your hospital room and other services provided by hospitals.

Accident Insurance

... that pays monthly benefits should you be injured in an accident or a lump sum should you be killed in one.

Surgical Expense Insurance

... that helps pay for costly operations.

Combination Insurance

... that provides you with several or all of the benefits included in the above mentioned plans.

... and we had to buck a lot of competition

But it was healthy competition.

We had to work hard and plan carefully. But it was work with a promise of reward.

We like to think that the friends we've made and the success we've had are typical examples of the opportunity America offers the man with an idea and a determination to build and manage his own business.

We wouldn't trade places with a small businessman of any other Nation for anything.

We think we can do a better job running our own business than the Government could. We think the doctors and nurses and scientists can do a better job managing the medical care of the Nation than the Government could.

We believe that American freedom is worth working and fighting for at home and abroad.

World Citizen Bothers Ruark

Garry Davis Says
It Was Publicity

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It probably is not possible to refuse fresh American citizenship to the celebrated Mr. Garry Davis, the orchestra leader's boy who sought to reform the world by renouncing his American birth-right in Paris a few years back. He appointed himself, as I recall, world citizen No. 1.

Mr. Davis has wed, since, an American citizen, dwells among us currently, and in due course of time (normally three years from the date of his residence as an American's spouse) is entitled to naturalization. This happens to war brides of all nations, and possibly should not be denied to Mr. Davis, a sort of international peace bride, himself.

Except that the fellow insults his homeland three times, on his own action. First, he purposefully turned in the solidest passport in a troublous world for a fuzz-headed Jihad Arabic, best word I know for angled rabble-rousing under quasi-noble aim. Then he says, in his letter to U. S. Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath, that he only renounced his citizenship as a publicity stunt.

"My renunciation of citizenship in Paris in May, 1948, was an action intended to dramatize the cause of world peace, world citizenship and the one world principle. My loyalty to my homeland has at no time been in question."

Double-Barrelled Stunt
Then he says, in requesting immediate restoration of rights as a citizen . . . "This I feel will give me belief in world citizenship the solid foundation necessary to its eventual realization."

This you might say is the double-barrelled publicity stunt, but with the temerity to involve what millions feel to be the most priceless possession of modern mankind as me this American boy is being just a little cavalier in his treatment of an idealistic commodity for which a great many people have died or risked their lives in order to obtain. No matter what your estimate of American citizenship, it is not a public relations gimmick for a feather-headed young man with delusions of messiah.

Mr. Davis writes, in his request for reinstatement that "because along with the inalienable human right which will accrue to me as an American citizen, I wish to assume with a minimum of delay my full share of responsibility in safeguarding these rights."

Mr. Davis' latest effort in the safeguarding of these inalienable rights was a second exodus to Haiti, where he protested American intervention in Korea. Apart from being straight party line, although I am sure Mr. Davis is not capable of being a Communist, it reflects a boyish lack of appreciation of what may have been the healthiest peace-breeding activity of our recent time.

May Be Crackpot
You may well dismiss Mr. Davis as a crackpot, but unfortunately he proved to be the kind of hot-eyed zealot who was most disturbing to the orderly resettlement of Europe, and his cult acquired great following both there and here. At best appraisal he has been a lousy advertisement for his country, and a lovely hunk of propaganda meat for the Russians. This could be partially our fault; we gave him an awful lot of space when he fired his country, as one would report an infant's abandonment of an ice-cream cone.

I don't even know why I bother with him much, except that Dave is a beautiful composite of a type I least admire. He is, first, the ad-depated idealist, bereft of practicality, meddling in men's business while clad in emotional rompers. He is, secondly, the kind of long-haircut sneerer at his land who deserts it while exploiting it, and then rushes back to mama's apron when the stuff hits the fan. In this respect he is kin to the esoteric creatures who dwell abroad on American capital during the 20's and 30's, knocking their nation in high-flown phrases, and deserting their villas and attics for the first plane back when Hitler started to move.

Turns out I am not much annoyed at Garry Davis. Just feel sorry that we can breed such a small gnaw to inflame the international eye.

Antidote For Poison Ivy Is Just A Hope

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — (P) — Poison ivy is so mean it would kill itself if it didn't manufacture its own antidote, according to Dr. Irwin W. Sizer, Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist. In a five-year study, just completed, he has found the antidote is an enzyme or catalyst called laccase. The laccase keeps the poison ivy vine flourishing by constantly changing the irritants before they can kill the plant.

But rush down to your neighborhood druggist yet for a bottle of laccase. Just keep away from the three-leaved prisoner of backyard and wayside. Medical men still are figuring how to apply Dr. Sizer's discovery.

LOSES 7 INCHES AT WAISTLINE with RENNEL Walloon Lake Man Loses Weight And Regains Health

"I am pleased with the results from Rennel," writes Charles Neff Route #1, Walloon Lake, Michigan. "My waistline was 44 inches and I weighed 238 lbs. I started taking Rennel and now my waistline is 37 inches and my weight less than 200 lbs. That was a lot of weight to lose in one month. It seems queer now to look down when walking and see my legs in motion. I work out of doors in the logging business and before taking Rennel was on a diet which made me miserable. I was weak, short of breath, but now I eat what I want and work every day. I wouldn't take anything for what Rennel has done for me."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on and be sure to get the genuine Rennel.

WITH GREAT, NEW WHITE CROSS INSURANCE PLAN

Some reasons why WHITE CROSS is the fastest-growing Plan of its kind in the world:

Rates have never been raised on persons already enrolled in WHITE CROSS

No prorating. Pays full benefits regardless of any other protection you may have.

Not necessary to be confined as bed patient to collect hospital benefits

Pays for both sickness and accident

Select what you need as follows:

1 HOSPITAL-SURGICAL

Pays for 100 to 200 hospital days per year per person at $4 to $15 per day, as you choose, and many "extras."

2 MEDICAL-SURGICAL

Pays home and hospital bills for doctor calls and surgery—up to $150 per person.

3 "PAYCHECK INSURANCE"

Pays up to $200 cash ($300 in hospital) per month when you're laid up. If permanently disabled by accident, pays for the rest of your life.

Hospital-Surgical Plan, NOW . . .

75¢ per month for children up to 16½.* Rates for adults similarly low.

*Rate does not increase when child becomes adult as long as he or she stays on same policy.

1c Postal Brings $2,279.67

Fred H. Harrison, Sanford, Fla., found it pays to send a postcard asking for White Cross facts. Only 4 months after enrolling he became ill. Since then he has collected $2,279.67 for hospital-medical expense and "lost paychecks."

THIS COULD HAPPEN TO YOU—Accidents and sickness send 1 out of every 9 persons to the hospital each year. That means that one member of every family is due to be a hospital patient this year or next. If you want WHITE CROSS to help pay hospital expense, doctor bills and provide extra cash when you're sick or hurt, find out about it NOW. Remember, when you need it, it's too late to apply.

6 OUT OF 10 HOSPITAL CASES NEED SURGERY, which many hospital plans don't cover. WHITE CROSS pays any surgeon of your choice $5 to $150 for operations at home, hospital or doctor's office. Add this low-cost coverage to what you have now.

Who Runs America?

the Congress?

the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

General Federation of Women's Clubs
American Farm Bureau Federation
National Grange
Veterans of Foreign Wars
National Conference of Catholic Charities
American Protestant Hospital Association

American Legion
National Association of Small Business Men
United States Chamber of Commerce
National Association of Retail Grocers
National Retail Dry Goods Association
American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

Pennsylvania Leads In War Casualties

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Pennsylvania counts more Korean war casualties among its servicemen than any other state, 1,509 up to now.

Down at the other end of the grim column is little Nevada, with 14.

An Associated Press survey today showed the totals of men killed, wounded, missing, injured or prisoners were proportioned generally to the population size of the states.

But there were exceptions. Pennsylvania was one of them. Its 10,435,000 population is about the same as California's which had 1,444 casualties. New York, which counts 1,250, casualties, is the nation's biggest state, 14,743,000.

Texas Fourth

Texas' 1,273 casualties were the fourth highest, from a population of 7,677,000. Ohio, with a slightly larger population than Texas, had 1,061.

There was no ready explanation for the variations. However, some states—like Texas and California—have big military installations. Frequently service men living near the base to which they are assigned use those local addresses as their home although they may be natives of other states.

These figures are compiled from the daily announcement by the defense department of names of casualties whose relatives have been notified. The list began with the first issued soon after the start of fighting in Korea last June and includes the 118th such list, made public Oct. 10.

Lists Vary

In it is a total of 20,359 casualties. There are 3,075 dead, 12,022 wounded, 4,000 missing, 1,035 injured in war zone accidents and 78 known prisoners of the enemy.

The total of this published list of names is slightly under the 20,756 announced last Thursday by the defense department. This is because the department's total is made up from lists which are several days ahead of those released

Looking for POWER?

Better Buy Buick!

THAT bold bonnet that stretches out before your eyes on a 1950 Buick isn't there just for show.

Lift it up, and you'll find that the space beneath is abundantly occupied, by one of the biggest hoodfuls of power you'll find in any motorcar.

What you're looking at is Buick's modern version of the high-compression valve-in-head engine, which gains extra wallop from the fact that it uses the exclusive Fireball combustion principle.

We could list a lot of mechanical reasons why fuel gives up extra power in a Fireball engine—how it's wrapped in a swirling, ball-shaped charge—how it burns with a smooth, clean thrust that delivers maximum action.

But the best way to find out what all this means is to touch off the eager horsepower out on the highway by a gentle nudge of your toe—and feel your shoulders press deep in the cushions behind them.

Now all this sounds thrilling, you say, but how about the feed-bills for all these horses? How about miles-per-gallon?

The practical answer to that one is found in this year's experience with the SUPER and SPECIAL—and even the ROADMASTER.

In all three, the horsepower was stepped up at the start of the year—and in all three, happy owners report the best mileage in modern Buick experience.

This is due to a little-known but authentic engineering fact—which is that an engine burns less gas when it doesn't have to labor. At any normal driving speed, therefore, extra power is extra thrifty.

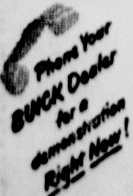

So we say again—if you're looking for power—mighty power—buoyant power—silken power—thrifty power—better buy Buick.

Your Buick dealer is eager for the chance to demonstrate how sound this hint really is.

Only BUICK has Dynaflow Drive® and with it goes HIGHER-COMPRESSION and with it goes HIGHER-POWER in three engines. Fireball valve-in-head power in SUPER models. • NEW (New F-263 engine in SUPER models). • NEW PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD front, taper-through fenders. • TRAFFIC-HANDY front, taper-through fenders. • EXTRA-WIDE steering, short turning radius. • SOFT-RIDE SEATS cradled between the axles. • SAFETY-tube RIDE, from all-steel springing. • SAFETY-tube low-pressure tires, ride-sliding torque-tube. • Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE VOTE REPUBLICAN IN NOVEMBER

To All Voters of Delta County

Dear Friends and Fellow Citizens:

We are proud to present our candidate,

Charles W. Magnuson for Full Time County Treasurer

In announcing his candidacy for this office Charley Magnuson said, "Having been a candidate for County Treasurer in 1948 I was reluctant to run again this year. So many of my friends have said, 'It's time for a change in the treasurer's office', that I decided to become a candidate for county treasurer again this year.

Elect Charley Magnuson for Full Time County Treasurer

If I am elected to the office of County Treasurer the important duties of this office will be my full time job. I will administer all of the treasurer's business with the same THRIFT and ECONOMY that all taxpayers must use in these days of uncontrolled inflation and ever increasing government spending."

Elect Charley Magnuson for Full Time County Treasurer

More recently Charley also said, "I want to thank all of my friends and especially my two good friends and very worthy primary opponents, Peder Pederson and Jimmy Anzalone for their generous offers of assistance in the coming general election. We can all do together what we cannot do alone."

Elect Charley Magnuson for Full Time County Treasurer

Charley Magnuson was born in Escanaba and has been a lifelong resident, taxpayer and property owner in this city. Is married and has two children. His son Donald who served two and a half years in the Navy during World War II, is now a corporal in the Air Corps on active duty in Korea. A daughter, Gertrude, also lives in Escanaba.

Elect Charley Magnuson for Full Time County Treasurer

He attended school in Escanaba and worked several years on a dairy farm in Wells Township. Began working for the Delta Hardware Co. a few years after the company was organized where he was employed for thirty two years as a department manager and field representative.

Elect Charley Magnuson for Full Time County Treasurer

Resigned to take a position during World War II in the bomber plant at Willow run where he was employed until the plant closed at the end of the war.

We sincerely solicit your vote for

CHARLES W. MAGNUSON FOR FULL TIME COUNTY TREASURER

Korean Victories Boost Hopes For World Peace

By MARQUIS CHILDS
LONDON—The swift victories in the Korean war have brought new hope that the conflict may be quickly concluded and the catastrophe of a third world struggle averted for the immediate future at least. But inside this government there is also a deep-seated fear of involvement with the Chinese Communists and loss of all Asia to the Western World in endless warfare between the colored and the white peoples.

CHILDS

This is a reflection of earlier concern over American policy in regard to Formosa. It has been little realized in the United States how profound this concern was in Britain and elsewhere in Western Europe.

Late in the summer Prime Minister Clement Attlee faced something like a rebellion in the executive council of the Labor party. Attlee came before a showdown session of the executive council. Details of this meeting have never been reported, but they are known to many in the party. At this meeting, Attlee was asked the following question:

"If the United States becomes involved in war with Communist China as a result of its policy toward the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, will Great Britain be committed to become an ally of the United States in such a war?"

August Crisis
Attlee replied with a flat "no." Word of this stand was conveyed in top secret cables to Washington. It is believed here to have played a part in the August crisis between Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson. Some Labor party members think it influenced Truman's radio broadcast "clarifying" American policy on Formosa and may also have contributed to the decision to drop Johnson.

There are Americans, of course, who speak scornfully of the British attitude as appeasement. But behind the British viewpoint is the realization of how Western forces could be bogged down in the vast swamp of Asia, leaving the Soviet Union free to go as far as she desired in Europe. Some informed officials here believe this to be the deliberate objective of the present Russian policy.

As a consequence, Britishers sometimes find the dualism of American policy difficult to follow. For example, a message conveyed indirectly to the foreign office here from a high American official was that Britain would have to choose between India and the United States. This was at the time when Prime Minister Nehru was trying to negotiate for peace in Korea in notes to Stalin and Acheson.

The firm conviction here is that this is not the nature of the west to cooperate with the Asian peoples including, eventually, the Chinese, who sooner or later will Games were played and a buffet lunch served by the hostess. At the party were Mesdames Hjalmar Olson, Axel Carlson, Alfred Dahl, Carl Carlson, Warren Rose, John Backlund and Ralph Rose.

Honored at Shower

Mrs. LeRoy White was honor guest at a pink and blue shower held at the town hall Friday evening. Games were followed by a tasty lunch. The hall was attractively decorated with pink and blue streamers and a large figure of a stork formed the centerpiece. The honor guest received many lovely gifts. Mrs. Elroy Backlund and Mrs. Alfred Dahl, jr., were in charge of party arrangements.

Stella Donovan
Gives Travel Talk
At Club Meeting

Miss Stella Donovan of Menominee spoke to members of the Business and Professional Women's club at their regular dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Sherman Hotel. Miss Donovan described her recent visit to the European countries of France, Switzerland, Italy and Portugal.

She said she was particularly impressed by the lack of luxuries and even necessities in France. She contrasted France's plight with the more than adequate supplies of Switzerland. This, she was told, is the difference between a nation that has suffered two wars and one that has had peace.

Italy, according to Miss Donovan, is the land of history. She told an amusing anecdote of being forced from a train in Spain and being sent back across the border after having already entered the country.

Miss Donovan stressed the friendliness of the peoples of the nations she visited. She feels that this friendliness is a basis for hopes of world peace.

Mrs. Caroline Nystrom introduced the speaker, Mrs. Nystrom. Mrs. Blanche Papineau and Mrs. Stella James were on the committee in charge of the program.

Newcomers' Club
Harvest Dinner
Dance Saturday

The Welcome Wagon Newcomers' club is holding its harvest dinner dance Saturday evening, October 14, at the Escanaba Golf and Country Club.

Dinner at 7 will be followed by modern and old-time dances with a three-piece orchestra playing the dance program. Expert callers will supervise the square dances. There will be cards for those who do not wish to dance.

Tickets for the party may be obtained at Gust Asp's, the West End Drug store or by calling 2814J.

Mrs. W. J. Perkins is chairman of the evening and assisting her are Mesdames Merle Haseltine, C. T. Sebesta, M. G. Faussner, Mario Chigi, Fred Swank, R. D. Culbertson, Norman Lukor,

Rotarian Ladies
Night Dinner
At Country Club

Rotarians and their ladies were guests last evening at the autumn Ladies' Night dinner party at the Escanaba Golf and Country Club.

Dinner at 7 was followed by an informal program which included vocal solos by Mrs. Oliver Fuller, community singing, dancing and cards. Mrs. Leslie W. Olson had high score in bridge and Harry Belanger and Oliver V. Thatcher had high scores in canasta.

The Rotary colors, blue and gold were effectively combined with the autumn theme in attractive decorations for the party. Streamers of Rotary blue extended the length of the tables and bouquets of gold mums and autumn leaves were arranged with blue tapers in gold holders.

Arrangements for the dinner were in charge of the fellowship committee of the club, Frank W. Andrew, chairman, Hubert H. Shepeck, Charles Gunderson, John Greene, Dr. Vernon K. Johnson and Leonard C. Reynolds, and wives of the committee members were in charge of the decorations.

Today's Recipes

Today's recipe for home made egg noodles comes from Mrs. Ben Levinski, 947 Washington avenue.

Egg Noodles
One egg
One teaspoon salt
Flour
Stir sufficient flour into a slightly beaten egg to make a very stiff batter. Add salt, knead and roll as thin as possible. It should be of almost paperlike thinness. Cover with a towel and let remain untouched for a half hour. Then cut in small fancy shapes and dry them. When needed place in boiling water and cook rapidly for 15 minutes.

A reader requests a recipe for canning wild mushrooms. Anyone having such a recipe is asked to write the Daily Press recipe department.

Your child's private zoo of stuffed animals can be cleaned quickly and efficiently by tumbling them for five minutes in fluffy suds in your washing machine. Hang them on the line afterwards for a long drying session.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES
by Sue Donimus

WHEN I say Wallace—or International—if you're a man you think of politics, but if you're a woman you think of sterling silver! Every woman is a politician when it comes to campaigning for sterling. Fall brides will surely want to see the new International pattern, "Brocade", before choosing their flatware. Semi-elaborate, very beautiful, and a moderate $24.75 for a place setting of 6 pieces. Another pattern I vote for is the new "Romance by the Sea" by Wallace. Be sure to see these and many fine traditional patterns at Blomstrom-Petersen, soon!

TWO preachers around town have decided that besides trying to save their parishioners' souls, they'd try to save their own—suits that is! I have it on the Q.T. that they both walked out of Peterson's Shoe Store wearing America's number one comfort shoes, Massagie, by Weyenberg. The perfect foot comfort of massagie comes from the air cushion that yields with every step, absorbs shocks and keeps you really foot fresh. The flexible arch lift and exclusive styling make them the smartest comfort shoes afoot! In black or brown. Lastical—at Peterson's.

A LESSON in simple arithmetic: Give your undivided attention to your wardrobe. How about making an addition to it by dying that pastel coat or dress a rich Fall shade? The NuWay Cleaners does such a beautiful dying job at these little prices: dress or coat, $4.25; shorty coat, $3.50. No matter how you figure it, you can't lose when you turn in something old for something new at the NuWay!

THE English may be in a fog when it comes to humor, but they jolly well know their business when it comes to cologne! "London Mist" by the Herb Farm Shop is a clear, new fragrance that's as elusive as distant music (it says here in small print!) All I know is that it's a fresh, clean smelling fragrance that I like, so why shouldn't you? Made in the fine tradition of the Herb Farm Shop English formula fragrances, "London Mist" sells at $1.75 plus tax for a generous four ounce bottle at Gust Asp's. Pip, pip, champagne, better have a bottle for milady! Cheerio, old thing!

HERE'S a new definition I picked up: Sophistication is the art of admitting that the unexpected is just what you anticipated. But it's hard to be sophisticated over the newly developed semi-gloss paint at NuEnamel. Frankly, I'm amazed—I never expected such an unusual paint as Nu-Satin. It's soft, velvety finish betrays the fact that it's tile hard! Perfect for any room in the house, it comes in any color imaginable. Be sure to ask for a free Nu-Satin color card at the NuEnamel Store, 920 Ludington. A huge array of colors plus loads of ideas for color harmony in decorating.

WOMEN seldom take the advice of another woman on clothes—naturally, you don't ask the enemy how to win a war! But here's an anonymous tip on a sure fire fashion—Cynthia shoes! The Penney Store now offers Cynthia in a new suede shoe with either spike or low heel. The high heel pump comes with a closed heel and open toe in gray, brown, black or green. A low heeled pump and also a sandal comes in the same Fall shades and at the same low price—$4.98. Sizes from 4½ to 8½; AA to B.

IT'S jersey time—but not only on the football field! Let me pass on a fashion tip to you, girls. My goal is that basic jersey dress in fire fly (a bright red orange!) that I found at the Fair Store! Full skirt, push up balloon sleeves, and a small collar at the high neckline. A fur fabric belt and tie in imitation leopard make this little number really high style. Other jerseys in aqua, beige and coral with smart black velvet belts—only $17.95. Tissue weight wools in bright blue, fire fly and kelly green for $14.95. Bet there's a patent pending on those shiny black buttons and patent leather belts! You're sure to score with such clever pocket and sleeve detail as are on these Fair frocks!

IT'S sometimes pretty hard to find the opening in the mind of a person who says he's open-minded! So—you say you like the out of doors, but you live in a stuffy house whose only openings are little 2 by 4 windows! Bring those wide open spaces right into the house with a big picture window! Ray Erickson of Erickson Millwork will either design one for you or work one out to your specifications. His kitchen cabinets are lightning housework for lots of Escanaba women, too. Call 2747-J for estimates.

Extend Deadline On Chapel Bids

City Commission
Adds Four Days

No bids were received on the proposed chapel and receiving vaults for Fernwood cemetery so the Gladstone city commission in regular session Monday, evening extended the time for acceptance of bids to Friday noon and adjourned until Friday at 4 o'clock at which time they will reconvene to consider the offers.

While no bids were received up to the earlier deadline, it has been indicated that bids will be offered by Friday by William Nelson, Rex Stowe, Cal Cunningham and T. W. Thompson, local contractors.

The bid of the Bay de Noc Insurance Agency for insuring the fleet of automotive vehicles operated by the City of Gladstone was accepted by the commission. The successful bidder's offer was under $500 and was said to have been several hundred dollars less than the next best offer. Three bids were received by the city, the other two coming from Phil Hupy, local insurance agent, and the Empson Insurance Agency.

Soo Line Will Build New Cars

Work Scheduled At Fond du Lac Shops

G. A. MacNamara, president of the Soo Line, has announced that at a meeting of the directors of the railroad, approval was given to the building of 400 additional 40-foot box cars and 100 twin hopper gondolas. Work will be done in the company's shops at North Fond du Lac, Wis., and will commence as soon as materials arrive. The box cars will be of steel exterior and with available steel flooring.

This is part of a continuing program initiated by the Soo Line two years ago when the company retooled its Fond du Lac shops in order to become its own car builder. Since that time 500, 40-foot and 50, 50-foot all steel box cars with high speed trucks have been built along with 200 all steel general service gondolas and 200, 70-ton ore cars equipped with compensating brakes. At present 200 composite gondolas are being rebuilt to all steel. Prior to rebuilding, these cars had wooden floors and side boards. Still to be built, of those previously authorized, are 250 new 80,000 pound capacity box cars with underframes of A. A. R. design and with steel roofs.

This will make 1900 new cars to be added to the Soo Line fleet

Holy Name To Sponsor Smear

Organize League
Monday Night

Organization of the Holy Name Smear league will take place Monday evening, Oct. 16, at 7:30 o'clock in All Saints parish hall.

While some preliminary organization work has been done, anyone interested in playing this season is welcome to do so and may secure a place on a team by phoning Roy LaCosse, No. 5484.

Last season eighteen four-man teams participated and it is indicated that the league this season will probably be larger.

Supervisors Hold
Two-Day SessionMany Committee
Assignments Made

Fixing the annual budget, appointment of members to various boards and allowing bids for coal were the chief items of business transacted at the two day session of the Schoolcraft county board of supervisors the first of the week.

The bid for the chairmanship of the Schoolcraft County Road commission developed into a three way contest with Sib Weber, Louis Tebo and Henry Orshel seeking the post. When brought to a vote, Orshel received seven votes, Weber, 4; and Tebo 3. Orshel holds that position at present time.

John Reed and J. Mauritz Carlson were re-elected members of the hospital board of trustees and will hold those offices for a period of six years each.

Richard Freeland was named member of the county welfare board for a three year term, his tenure of office to begin the first of the year.

Allot Ball Field

Representatives of the Cardinal baseball team and the board of recreation appeared before the board of supervisors requesting that the supervisors designate certain county owned property as land to be used as a baseball field. Land east of the barn on the quarry pool property was so designated.

Dan Harrington, Roy Roberts and C. L. Smith were appointed members of the county canvassing board for a period of two years.

Ed Jackson was appointed manager of the county airport for the coming year, his term of office to begin November 1.

The Grvin Coal and Dock Company was successful in its bid to provide stoker coal for the court house. His bid offered coal at $13.70 per ton. Joe Levin will provide coal at $14.00 per ton.

Hike In Salaries

There was a hike in salary allowances amounting to $200 per year for most county offices. The office of prosecuting attorney was allowed an increase in salary for clerk hire from $720 to $1,500. The county agricultural agents clerk will also receive a raise. Her present salary of $960 will be raised to $1,200.

Carl Christensen, county surveyor was instructed to locate and set markers at 20 more township corners at a rate of $10 per corner. These corners are a part of the original survey made about one hundred years ago. Trees designated most of the original survey corners and as these have, with one or two exceptions, disappeared, replanting and remarking is deemed necessary.

John of Lansing, have returned after a stay here visiting with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Olson returned home yesterday after visiting in Lansing for three weeks. While in Lansing they attended the wedding of their daughter, Corrine Ashford.

City Briefs

Rugged Mountaineers Play Here Saturday

Iron Mountain! Down through the years, the Mountaineers have produced some of the most feared names in Upper Peninsula gridiron history.

Ronzani . . . Eckholm . . . LaJeunesse . . . Colonio . . . Dyer . . . Miresse . . . Tedeschi . . . Thibert . . . Florani.

This year's Iron Mountain outfit is no different. In Quarterback Bob Gingrass, Iron Mountain has one of the most dangerous signal callers, passers and ball carriers in the peninsula this year.

When the Mountaineers come to Escanaba Saturday, Gingrass will be at the helm of a team that last week gave undefeated Menominee a worse scare than Escanaba did.

Long Scoring Run
Gingrass started 66 yards with a punt for touchdown and passed to Jack Pozza for a second marker but the latter was called back and Iron Mountain penalized for backfield in motion.

Gingrass also got away for another 35 yard non-scoring run and heaved a pass to End Steiner that covered 50 yards.

All in all for the day, he gained 95 yards, not including his 66-yard touchdown run—not a bad day for a "country back."

Gingrass and Pozza are flanked in the backfield by another capable pair, Cerasoli and Rousseau. The line is anchored by Guards Earl Sjöberg and Jack Fortie and end Forrest Rousseau.

The Mountaineers lost to Menominee, 10-7, the margin of victory being a difficult 22-yard field goal by Johnny Moersch on in the first quarter.

Iron Mountain will bring its reserve team here Saturday and its cross country team.

Babe Ruth was walked more times during his career than any other player, 2056, and struck out more times, 1330.

Although they have met seven times, the University of Washington is still looking for its first football win over Minnesota.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Last week we needled our old friend, George Springer of Gladstone and Minneapolis fame, for not having sent us any sports contributions . . . we asked what he had done with the $22.95 he made on his car "deal" . . . George wired: "Spent $22 on herbs, the rest on gum" . . . after Nebraska and Washington, George probably needed the herbs more than ever!

Here's better news for Jack Finn's friends . . . his Dansville team hit the jackpot last week . . . they walloped Okemus, 57 to 14 . . . Okemus is a "suburb" of East Lansing.

Joe Ivens, an old Stambaugh man himself, thinks we put the hex on the Hilltoppers by picking Iron River to win—which they did . . . but what a way to win . . . long pass in the last 40 seconds of the game and the extra point . . . 14-13 for Coach Harry Monson's boys . . . the Iron River-Stambaugh rivalry is the Escanaba-Gladstone rivalry tenfold.

Choice description for anyone by Buck Erickson, Iron Mountain scribe, is "meathead."

Did you ever stop to wonder what a rip-roaring back like "Pistol Pete" Kutches of St. Joe would do behind that huge Escanaba line? . . . there's a chap who loves it most when the going's the toughest.

Carroll Lundeen, Paul Snyder, Karl Dickson and Drs. Roy and Vernon Johnson are getting their snowshoes in shape, we hear . . . this group has been a steady Sunday morning golf caravan at the Escanaba golf club and friends think they'll still be playing, come snow time . . . understand Lundeen is quite a sharpie—killed a rabbit with a well placed shot one day . . . perhaps with the idea of having hassenpfeffer at their "tee party."

U. P. sports writers will meet Saturday, Nov. 4, to determine their ideas of the U. P. team and the Barber trophy winner.

Congrats to John Lemmer, Ed Edick, George Ruwitch and anyone else who had anything to do with the fine press box atop the stadium . . . now that it is finished, it is the finest high school press box we've ever been in . . . service in real style, too, for the sportswriters and announcers . . . attractive gal students serve halftime refreshments.

When St. Joe travels to Crystal Falls Saturday, it will be Trojans vs. Trojans . . . both schools use that nickname . . . a horse (Trojan) apiece, we'd say.

Army Tough, Wolves Will Learn

WEST POINT—(AP)—In two games this season, the Army football team has scored 69 points, gained 757 yards from scrimmage and earned the No. 1 place in the weekly Associated Press ranking poll.

Yet the 1950 Army team will have to prove in Yankee stadium Saturday that it is as great as its predecessors of the last half-dozen years. Michigan is the first big objective for which Army has been pointing while breezing past Colgate, 28-0, and Penn State, 41-7.

Despite the figures, the Cadets haven't looked great on offense against two rivals that figured to have only fair defensive strength. The Army defensive platoon has been the kind of thing coaches dream about. And if the fire which seemed to sweep over the team after Penn State scored late in last Saturday's game continues to burn, this Army team could be as great as any.

Explosive Power
Up to that time the offensive line, which Coach Earl Blaik picked as the team's weak spot before the season, had shown a tendency to bog down near the goal. The "wide" stuff, with a lot of fast, elusive backs to carry the ball, worked well. But the Army attack was stopped three times inside the 15-yard line and a few more times within scoring range.

After giving away a touchdown by penalties, the Cadets looked mad as they came out to take the kickoff. They scored two touchdowns within four minutes and they hit with the explosive power and speed that usually marks the Army attack.

Long Runs Featured
The two victories have been marked by long runs, either on wide sweeps around the ends or on a successful trap play through the middle. Vic Pollock, second-string halfback, made the longest, a 94-yard dash against Colgate. Halfbacks Jim Cain, Frank Fischl and Jack Martin all have had a share in the long gains and sophomore Gene Filippski, who got his chance when Fischl was hurt, also did well last week.

Steghenson, the current "Mr. Inside" pulled off one 55-yard gallop and hasn't been completely stopped, though he hasn't done too well on straight-ahead plays. The other fullback, Al Pollard, a ballyhooed recruit from Loyola of Los Angeles, has been highly effective on pitchout plays.

Blak Good Passer
Bob Blaik, the coach's son, and Captain Dan Foldberg, left end, have collaborated on about a dozen successful passes, two for touchdowns. Gibby Reich, who also plays safety on defense, relieves Blaik occasionally at quarterback and has proved to be an adept passer.

Defensively, there's nothing wrong with Army that Coach Blaik can't cure by keeping his first stringers in action. J. D. Kimmel, tackle, Hal Loehlein and John Krobock, ends, and the line-backers, Don Beck and Elmer Stout, have been outstanding. Guard Ray Malavasi, rated as Army's best lineman, hasn't been able to play because of a knee injury.

Babe Ruth led the American League in drawing bases on balls for 11 seasons during his career.

Three Teams In Running For U. P. Mythical Title

(By The Associated Press)

Three unbeaten and untied prep elevens from the western division—Iron River, Menominee and Ironwood—remain rivals for the mythical Upper Peninsula championship.

One is slated to fall Friday night, when Ironwood invades Menominee. Observers figure Houghton will be easy prey for Iron River, considered by many as the hottest team in the Upper Peninsula.

Saturday night, Mickey McMahon, of Iron River, the Upper Peninsula's No. 1 backfield candidate for all-state honors, passed to Strikes in the last 47 seconds to defeat previously undefeated Stambaugh. Undefeated in 13 games, the losers were 1949 Upper Peninsula champs.

Menominee, winner over Iron Mountain on Johnny Moersch's 32-yard field goal, is slightly favored over Ironwood.

Newberry, the only other major unbeaten team, is a cinch to end the season undefeated. While the western trio play a representative intersection slate, Newberry confines its activity to the none-too-strong Great Lakes conference.

Crystal Falls, one of class C standouts this season, marched to its fifth straight victory, 26-0, over Lake Linden. A loss to Norway in the season's opener is the only Falls defeat.

Stengel Won't Stand Pat on Yanks

NEW YORK—(AP)—Casey Stengel, set for two years with the best manager's pay in baseball, will not stand pat with his world champion New York Yankees.

Boston, Cleveland, and Detroit are respected by Stengel. So is Washington, which he regards as a potential first division club.

Stengel peered ahead into 1951 today after signing a new two-year contract to manage the Yankees.

Stengel said he would try no more first base experiments with Joe DeMaggio. Johnny Mize's future is still undecided. Tommy Henrich's future hinges on the condition of his chronic knee condition.

Richards Named Chisox Manager
CHICAGO—(AP)—Paul Richards, first task was the new Chicago White Sox manager. The fifth in five years will be selection of a coaching staff.

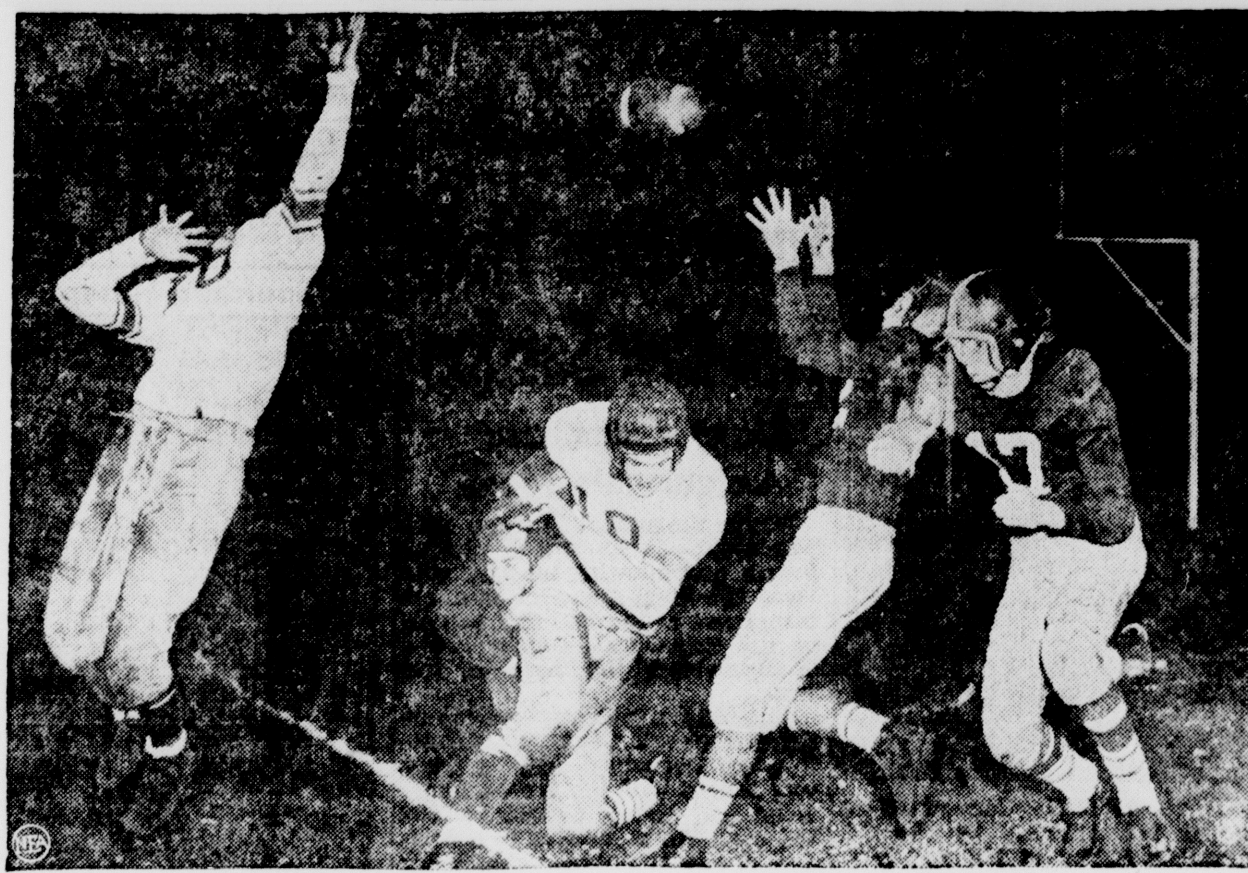

If Richards reshuffles, one of those who might get the ax is the White Sox perennial, Luke Appling. What to do with Luke, who has been with the organization since 1930, may prove to be Richards' most touchy task in his debut as pilot.

The 41-year-old Richards apparently is the type who gets what he wants. Appreciating the fact that Sox managers seem to live short lives, Richards demanded and finally received a two-year contract.

Dartball Meeting Set For Tonight
A schedule will be drawn up and other details ironed out at a meeting of the Escanaba Dartball association tonight at 7:30 at the Kiwanis youth center.

League play will start next Wednesday. Managers, players and others interested in dartball are invited to tonight's meeting.

SEEING THINGS—These two plays did not happen at the same time when Fond du Lac played at Manitowoc, Wis. High. They came out on the same picture when Photographer Russ Kriwanek double exposed the film. Les Wilhelms, left, failed to knock down a pass caught by Carl Duebner, who scampered 10 yards for a touchdown. Wilhelms also figured in the other play. He's the man with the ball, about to be hauled down. Coming up to aid in the tackle is No. 17, right.

Grandelius of MSC One of Nation's Top Aces

Grid Writers Hear Weeping

DETROIT—(AP)—We got plenty of trouble and trouble is what we've got. We've got no backs, got no ends, got no tackles at all.

That, in essence, was the chorus from college representatives yesterday at the weekly football writers luncheon here.

Top "weeper" honors went to Jim Jackson, sports publicist for the William & Mary team that meets Michigan State Saturday.

After listening to Jackson enumerate a long list of injuries, even Michigan's athletic director Fritz Crisler was moved to compassion.

He told the group, "after hearing about William & Mary's troubles, I feel better for we will at least be able to field a team against army. I don't know how we'll do, but it will be a ball game."

Biggie Munn of MSC, said "our team suffered a general letdown against Maryland last week when we lost to a mighty good team. Bob Carey is still limping considerably and we have several other players on the doubtful starter list, so we will have a real battle with William & Mary."

Jackson asserted: "We've got seven men on the injured list. The advance dope makes Michigan State a 21-point favorite and we'll be lucky if we can hold the score down that low. We don't have a good defensive team. We do have a good offensive team, or did have until injuries cropped up."

Ted Carpenter of Marquette said: "We're invading Michigan to meet the U. of D. and Michigan State on successive weekends and that is tough. We're extra good defensively this year and have a potent passing attack, but our all-around game is not as good as we'd like it and we've got some key men on the injured or partially disabled list."

EAST LANSING—(AP)—You might pin the title "Mr. Consistency" on Everett "Sonny" Grandelius, Michigan State college's left halfback, and one of the hottest runners in the nation.

Although the Spartans in their first three games have looked good, excellent and just plain lousy, the rangy Muskegon senior has always stood out.

He goes into the William & Mary game this weekend boasting a yards gained rushing average of 7.1—one of the best in the nation.

Besides that, he has a record of solid play as a passer, a punter and a pass receiver.

Tops MSC Runners
He can't be said to have carried the Spartan team along, but he has been a big factor in the success.

So far, against Oregon State, Michigan and Maryland, he has gained a net 369 yards running. Eight other Spartan runners, all together, show a net gain of only 242 yards.

In other words, he has run up nearly 60 per cent of all the yardage his team has been able to make on the ground.

Grandelius also has attempted three passes, and completed one for a touchdown. His two others, however, were intercepted.

As a receiver, he has snagged four passes for 49 yards, including one touchdown. As a punter, he claims an average slightly in excess of 34 yards.

His most sensational effort to date, however, was his 67-yard touchdown scamper against Maryland last Saturday. The marker, the only one scored by the Spartans, put them back in the game just briefly.

May Use Sophs
Grandelius probably will get only a limited chance to fatten his average this week against the invading Southerners.

Coach Biggie Munn apparently is going to use some of his sophomores against the twice-beaten Indians, and should give some of his standouts a rest.

This means that Grandelius' two replacements, Willie Throver and Don Mc Auliffe, may get in to the game. Mc Auliffe particularly has looked good in practice this week, reeling off several 20 yard runs in scrimmage yesterday.

Coach Munn also alternated Bill Carey, Bud Agnew and Leo Boyd at the quarterback spot, taking things easy on regular Al Dorow, who twisted an ankle in Monday's practice.

Right half Wayne Benson, another Monday injury, did not participate in the contact work at all, and varsity guard John Tobin still limned on his bad ankle, also suffered Monday.

church organizations in Escanaba, Bark River, Rapid River and Gladstone to join the group. Entry in the league can be made by communicating with Mr. Berg at 474-J, Escanaba.

Redwings Open Against Rangers

Houtteman Gets In More Trouble

GILL, Mass.—(AP)—Art Houtteman was pinched for speeding on his honeymoon yesterday.

The Detroit Tiger pitcher put up $10 bond and was released.

Houtteman was driving with his bride, the former Shelagh Kelly, when state troopers stopped him on the Mohawk trail in northwestern Massachusetts.

The troopers said Art was hitting 70 miles an hour in his flashy yellow convertible on the mountain road.

Houtteman declined to disclose his destination.

Art is scheduled to be drafted into the army later this month.

DETROIT—(AP)—The curtain rises tonight on the new big league hockey season.

Appropriately enough, the scene for the first action is Detroit's big red-brick Olympia stadium where the champion Red Wings open their title defense against the New York Rangers.

Coach Tommy Ivan's champions, markedly reinforced for the new 1950-51 campaign, are favorites to keep their National hockey league crown.

Hopeful home fans are speculating even about a five-game lead by Christmas.

Last season the Wings swept up everything in sight, including the Stanley Cup, and everything in the book now points to a repetition.

The Wings, thanks in part to the big off-season trade with the Chicago Black Hawks, boast even more depth than the hot-shot club of a year ago.

Old Reliabilities
They still have their old reliables of Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Sid Abel and now in addition the new "pepper line" of Metro Prystal, Jimmy Peters and Marty Pavelich.

Rookie Goalie Terry Sawchuk did a sweet job in the 7-1 victory Sunday night when the Wings thumped the NHL all-stars.

The league campaign moves on tomorrow night at Chicago with the Black Hawks opening against the Montreal Canadiens. Sunday night all six teams will be in action.

DETROIT and the Rangers pick up where they left off last season. They were the finalists in the Stanley cup series. Each is starting its 25th year in the league.

The Rangers, led last season by Lynn Patrick, now with Boston, introduce a new coach in Neil Colville, who can't see any better than third place for his team, came up from New Haven when Patrick quit the Rangers.

Lions Cheered By Vets Return
DETROIT—(AP)—Return of Fullbacks John Panelli and Ollie Cline cheered the Detroit Lions today for their meeting with the Los Angeles Rams here Sunday.

Both players missed recent games due to injuries.

Panelli, former Notre Dame ace, suffered a bruised hip in the Yanks game two weeks ago which kept him out of the Lions' 24-7 victory last Sunday over San Francisco.

Cline, formerly of Ohio State, injured his leg three weeks ago. However, the blond linebuster gives indication that he's ready for full duty against the Rams.

While Coach Bo McMillin welcomed his two offensive fullbacks, he admitted that he must do without the services of Joe Watson, Watson, recruit center and line-backer from Rice, still favors a leg injury suffered in the Pittsburgh game.

Next Spartan Opponent Looks Like Pushover

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—(AP)—William and Mary's Indians invade Michigan State Saturday, smarting from their worst licking on the gridiron since 1923.

Last week, the Indians bowed to Wake Forest, 47-0. Not since 1923 when Syracuse kayaked the Tribe by 61-3 has William and Mary absorbed such a spanking on the football field.

R. N. (Rube) McCray, William and Mary's coach, wonders whether Michigan State won't outdo Wake Forest in running up points against the Indians. He said the team he sent against Wake Forest was in the poorest physical condition of any he has fielded during many years of coaching football.

The team which takes the field against Michigan State may be in even worse physical condition. For most of the first team is tied up in adhesive tape.

Against Wake Forest, McCray found seven regulars unable to don a uniform. They included three linemen—Joe Gardaci, Jim Smith and Ted Gehlmann. The backs were Dickie Lewis, Ed Moduszewski, Ed Magdziak and Joe Mark.

Two other backs, Ed Weber and Paul Yewic, won't see more than limited service against the Spartans. Weber missed the team's early games because of a hand injury. He was the club's leading ground gainer last season and averaged 6.8 yards per carry. Weber plays wingback in McCray's single wing, "Y" and buck lateral plays.

Lewis is W&M's finest punter. But a shoulder separation kept him from getting off good kicks against Wake Forest and will hinder him again this week against Michigan State.

The Indians have some better than average passers in Lewis, Yewic, Magdziak and Moduszewski. They boast one of the country's best receivers in end Vito Ragazzo, who established a new scoring record for a collegiate lineman last year with 90 points. End George Heflin and halfback Larry Fones are other capable receivers.

William and Mary lost its opening game to Virginia Military institute, going down in the last minute of play, 25-19. The Indians came back strong to whip Cincinnati with their air assault, 20-14.

Rickey Denies Brownie Deal
NEW YORK—(AP)—The Daily Compass said today that Branch Rickey "is going to the St. Louis Browns as the new president and club owner in a deal financed by the American League."

In St. Louis last night, however, Bill DeWitt, president of the Browns, asserted, "We don't plan any changes in the operations of our club and Branch Rickey isn't buying it. It's not for sale."

Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, recently sold his Brooklyn stock to William Zeckendorf, New York real estate man. Since then there have been many rumors as to his future plans.

May Use Sophs
Grandelius probably will get only a limited chance to fatten his average this week against the invading Southerners.

Coach Biggie Munn apparently is going to use some of his sophomores against the twice-beaten Indians, and should give some of his standouts a rest.

This means that Grandelius' two replacements, Willie Throver and Don Mc Auliffe, may get in to the game. Mc Auliffe particularly has looked good in practice this week, reeling off several 20 yard runs in scrimmage yesterday.

Coach Munn also alternated Bill Carey, Bud Agnew and Leo Boyd at the quarterback spot, taking things easy on regular Al Dorow, who twisted an ankle in Monday's practice.

Non-Defense Budget Cut In Washington

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The budget bureau has announced a $580,271,335 cut in non-defense appropriations—$30,271,335 more than the minimum cut Congress ordered after voting the funds.

The bureau's reductions, for the fiscal year ending next June 30, were approved by President Truman. They were spread over 31 agencies in the executive branch which shared in the $35,554,600, 425 single-package appropriations act to which the cuts applied.

The act made up a large part of the nearly $54,000,000 Congress appropriated this year before recessing until Nov. 27.

The biggest slash of all whacked $75,000,000 or half, off the $150,000,000 total voted by Congress for the federal security agency's grants for hospital construction.

Other cuts of $50,000,000 or more: rural electrification loans of the Agriculture department, $66,427,000; reclamation and power marketing agencies of the Interior department, $56,950,000; Army engineers civil activities, European Recovery program, (Marshall Plan), and relief in occupied areas abroad, $50,000,000 each.

Adrift In Caribbean For Month; Two Saved, One Perishes At Sea

PANAMA, Panama—(AP)—Adrift a month in the Caribbean, two youths were forced to push the lifeless body of their companion overboard only two hours before they were rescued.

The story of their ordeal was told here by Simon Maduro, 20, and Jose Weaver, 21, of Aruba Island, after they were rescued Friday by the United Fruit Co. ship Morazan.

Their companion, John Arms, died Thursday night.

The trio left Aruba four weeks ago for a pleasure cruise along the coast in a small sailboat. Adverse currents and winds drove them into the open sea. When their mast broke, they drifted helplessly.

They had only rain water from occasional showers to drink. Their only food was a seagull and small fish they caught.

Maduro and Weaver were landed at Cristobal, in the Canal zone, Sunday and treated for exposure.

Towns In England To Get Atomic Heat By Early Next Year

LONDON—(AP)—British scientists are designing equipment to warm towns and industrial plants with the heat from atomic energy piles.

A ministry of supply announcement said that engineers at the Harwell Atomic Energy station will start building the necessary machinery early next year. Their first project will be to heat all the buildings of the Harwell establishment.

It is hoped, after a period of experimentation, to supply heat to towns near atomic energy plants. Atomic piles produce intense heat which now is thrown off by passing air out through tall chimneys.

One plan for using the heat, being worked out by the scientists, is to generate steam for conventional heating systems. Another method being developed is to generate electric energy to be reconverted into heat at a distance from the pile.

Haircuts Go Up

MIDLAND—(AP)—The price of haircuts in 16 Midland barber shops jumped from $1 to $1.25 Monday. For children the price is still $1, except on Saturday when kids pay the same as adults.

All internal combustion engines and tractors used by lumbermen in Oregon must be equipped with an approved fire extinguisher.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Ought To "Polish Up" Her Traffic Manners!

Spent most of yesterday over at the Court House, "Tiny" Fields, the biggest and fastest-talking of our three policemen, was holding forth about his traffic troubles.

"Women drive just as good as men do," Tiny said, "and just as bad. For instance—a girl in a convertible today. She started a three-block tie-up all by herself.

"She's creeping down Main Street—left hand stuck out and sort of waving around. Never turns right or left, never stops. But, of course, everyone behind her thinks she's signaling about something. Nobody dares to pass. When I stop her and ask what's up, she smiles sweetly and explains that she's drying her nail polish!"

From where I sit, that girl's typical of certain folks who are so wrapped up in themselves, they never notice they're not being fair to others. Our neighbor has a right to drive in safety—just as he has a right to enjoy a glass of beer. Let's all respect the other fellow's rights.

Railway Wage Demand Set Up

Nearly 1,250,000 To Ask For Raise

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen has assigned to a small committee the task of fixing a wage demand to present to the nation's railroads as part of a general pay drive.

Altogether, nearly 1,250,000 railroad workers are involved in campaigns for higher wages.

David B. Robertson, president of the Firemen and Enginemen, said a six-man committee will set a wage figure which then will be passed upon by a group of 110 general unit chairmen called here for the purpose.

Robertson told reporters the union would never agree to a three-year moratorium on strikes and wage demands, as the AFL Switchmen's Union had done and other operating unions have been requested to do.

However, he said a proposal for raising wages a penny an hour for each percentage point rise in the government's cost-of-living index was "worth considering."

That also was part of the agreement signed ten days ago by the switchmen and the National Yardmasters Association.

The firemen's chief said his union lagged at least six cents behind the rise in the cost of living. The union received its last increase—10 cents an hour—in 1948.

Gov. Williams Asks Government To Buy Poor Michigan Beans

LANSING—(AP)—Governor Williams has made an unusual request to the Federal Commodity Credit Corporation to buy 500,000 bags of No. 3 grade beans of Michigan's distressed 1950 crop.

The corporation always has limited its purchases to No. 1 and No. 2 grade beans, the executive officer said.

Reporting Edward C. Meade, the governor's administrative aide, had gone to Washington to make the plea, the executive office said elevators and processing terminals are jammed to capacity because of large receipts of No. 3 beans.

There is no immediate market for them, the announcement said, because of their heavy moisture content and uneven color.

Unless the stored beans can be moved, 1950 beans still in the fields cannot be harvested, the office said.

UN CHRISTMAS CARD—This is the 1950 Christmas card whose sale is sponsored by the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. In 1950 UNICEF gave aid in 60 countries and helped to provide eight million children with a daily supplementary meal and four million children with clothing or shoes. In addition the UN agency supplied penicillin, vaccines, medical equipment and supplies for maternal and child health. Cards sell at 10 cents each and the profit will augment UNICEF aid, which is given solely on the basis of need without regard to race, creed or politics.

Arson Suspected In Big Warehouse Fire At Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Arson is suspected in the spectacular fire that roared through a big, downtown warehouse here Monday night.

Police Chief Caspar Enkemann said he was "suspicious" of the speed with which the flames spread in a matter of minutes from one spot in the Montgomery Ward & Co. warehouse to envelope the entire fourth floor.

Enkemann said his suspicions were enhanced by the fact that it was the fourth blaze in the building since May 24, when $65,000 worth of damage was caused by fire of undetermined origin. Two minor blazes had occurred since that date.

Water poured on the flames short circuited two 40,000 volt high tension wires and one 4,800 volt circuit, which broke with blinding flashes that scattered the crowd. No one was injured.

The electrical upset dimmed lights briefly throughout the city and temporarily stopped electric clocks.
